A journey through consciousness and enlightenment. Leaving home, deep practices at yoga ashrams and learning vedanta. From there, moving to work with a zen master and understand cultivation. However, its easy to get lost in words. So much to explain but so little words. Hence follow the trail of pictures and quotes. Learn from the teachers that have done it before. Twitter is one of the most brilliant distribution platforms of all times. The power of content unleashed. Nothing is a secret anymore. We spread the vedanta and zen through books, tweets, blogs and websites. Millions of page views have happened. Many people enlightened. Look for # tags in quotes for search terms. Look for @ symbol in tweets for addressing people. This book is a journey through pictures. The most current year is 2014, hence the date is not written in tweets. Time stamps are critical piece of information, to when the event happens, the location, and who we encountered. Every spiritual journey builds on events, where we meet and see, who and what, at a perfect time to walk our path. We cannot be thankful enough to all the saints, masters, gurus and teachers that have showed us the door. The guru shows the door, the student has to walk in. A good student builds a great teacher. Enlightenment is passed from a guru to disciple.

Can we be living and have a true experience of divinity?" "Being able to listen is the best respect you can give another. The Self can be absorbed listening to silence and listen."

Chapter: The Quran Guru - Millions of page views on Islam and Author of the Quran Book

The Koran or Quran is one of the most incredible scriptures. Mohammad, an enlightened teacher, was able to tap into higher frequency energies and heard voices in the astral. From there, he was guided and received revelation that were documented by people around him. The tone of Koran is that God expresses himself through Mohammad. Bhagavad Gita is another great text where God is speaking through Krishna. "Tao, yin and yang, where action creates counter-actions. And practice: accepting, conforming or working natural outcomes." "Everyone is exactly where they need to be. Based on Karma, according to Buddhist, Vedantins and Muslims." "There are four Quls in Islam. The forth one, Al Kafroon is the hidden and most powerful. The formula, your way and my way." "In Islam, harming people when running and sheltering at a Mosque is the biggest sin." "In the Aquarian age, the battle is of the minds. Google, Facebook, Twitter, Linkedin are tools. Yoga is the path." "Sharing has to be one of the top Sadhana, i.e. Ibadat or Worship." "Our knowledge of existence and God is so limited right now. A few like Mohammad, Krishna, Buddha with real information." "The Quran is the most magnificent books of all times. The poetry in Arabic is written in the most mystical nature." "Every religion has God. Not just Muslim, Christian, Jew, Hindu and Buddhist. The key is whether we can go beyond?" "Life doesn't really begin unless a teacher genuinely put their hands on us." "Life after death is mentioned plenty of times in Quran. Don't you think same teachers reincarnate again to help?" "The study of gross to subtle energies is not defined anywhere but Vedanta. We know there is a God, how to get there?" "Every human being has to cultivate their higher and lower nature. To kill or destroy is lower. To love is higher." "In every Hindu Temple, there are the Nine Statues of the Planets. However, the planets are also in the palms of the hands." "The Muslim pray with two hands up, not knowing why. The hands by study of Palmistry, have planets, gurus and guides." "The first Surah of Quran is 'The Cow'. The cow signifies the mother aspect. Durga in Vedanta." "It's important to be surrounded by people that allows for advancement. Serve, love, give, purify, meditate and realize." "The guru said by meditation on nada you reach Akasha. Growing up in Pakistan, we were taught about reaching Akash (Sky), through spirituality." "The sacred knowledge can only be opened by the grace of a teacher or auliya as defined by Sufism." "By careful examination of any scriptures, the common denominators can be studied." "The mystic Quran is one of the deepest texts. It has very clear explanations of gurus, angels and daemons."

Chapter: Ancient Wisdom of Dao - Learned from various Yoga and Tao Master, San Francisco, California

"Like water Dao is undifferentiated, endless self-replenishing, soft and quiet but immensely powerful and generous." "Woke up with Dream of Kali asking me to do something for Hanuman. I can't hear. While everyone in Veda is watching." "By your stumbling, the world is perfected". - Auro Bindu and the Mother. "A book covers less than 1% of what a person really knows. A book is also a window to the soul." "Same problem that existed in time of Buddha still exists today. The priests monetize Vedanta. What about human suffering?" "A yogi always lives in own Sarupa (being), in own Santosha (contentment). If not, that means a future liberation." "Never be attached to illusionary objects, e.g. buildings. As the building goes down, so do we. Attach to the Source." "Live like a boy, act like a man." "History is made by works. Not words." "A Dream that I had at Sivananda Vedanta Center in San Francisco, California that Sivananda is running the show. I am just doing my tasks." "Body comes and goes. The Soul merged with Brahman is ever Immortal. Not just after death, but living immortal." "The gurus run the show. The immortal souls that proved themselves and now give us a hand to uplift, if we listen." "Mount Shasta has the power to start anyone's spiritual journey. Just show up with the best devotion." "The love of Radha and Krishna. Try teaching that to a Brahmacharya. Tantra is the answer, not isolation." "Learning vedanta at Sivananda Yoga Center. The times change but the teachings don't." "Dao as flow of universe, qi, energy of action and existence. Dao is non-dual - from which all elements drive (similar to nada)." "Stomach worms in our body, the urges that make us crave the same food. Letting go fix our vrittis, thought patterns." "Food should be prepared by yourself or people with higher vibration". - Zen Master. "God make me hatha yogi like Vishnudevananda, raja yogi like Brahmananda, jnana yogi like Sivananda and bhakti yogi like Satchidananda." "God please give me what's mine. And not someone else's." "The prediction is that when the world turns dark, an army of monkeys, will appear. Hanuman, yoga and vedanta etc." "Why do we pray? Don't you think the divinity knows?" We pray till we learn to meditate. The ability to listen." "When the bhava or feeling of love for divinity occurs, the whole Universe fights for us. All in One Soul." "In the golden era, conscious vegan is necessary to raise consciousness and spiritual enlightenment."

Chapter: Nada (Silence) and Bindu (Creation)

"The soulmate connection. Each person has a male and female side connected like a DNA strand across dimensions." "The art of love. Tantra yoga and connecting with every inch of our being." Nada is silence. According to Krishna in Bhagavad Gita: "The Secret of life is silence". Through the void, the emptiness, through constant practice of meditation, the hissing sound in the ear is found. The sound of the soul. The experience of which throws all books ever found out of the window. Where nada meets bindu, the immortal sound meets manifestation. Bindu is the acting principles. The energy can be felt. The distinction is observed. Once a real experience happens, a validation of creation happens that human beings have the capacity to reach higher states. How we get there is a mystery. However, so much is there to be known. The experience of nada is where it all begins. Nada is the 5th element, ether, akasha, astral where the glimpse of God happens. Bindu as an acting principles, distribute karma. The ever present eye is always watching us. Aligns soul groups and people where they need to be for the highest good. Now a new Universe begins.
